Hi Thu,

Alice has compiled all of the written comments we received, I have not had the time to look through them yet but I am setting aside time tomorrow morning to begin. Alice is not very familiar with the Red Hill project so she took her best shot at organizing the comments by the content she read in them, but this will likely need some refinement. I wanted to pass along the earliest version to you in case you had initial comments. I will be talking with Alice on Tuesday to give her further guidance on how to move forward, so hopefully you and I can check in on the regular call on Monday about this sheet and any initial comments you have regarding the format. Again, I haven't taken a look at this yet so there is likely a need for some refinement, especially of the categories. This does have all of the commenters personal info that was provided so please keep internal to HDOH for now, thank you.

Hi Lyndsey,

I have finished looking through all of the comments. There are a total of 412. I have marked the ones that need a closer look at.
